Becker Avionics at AERO Friedrichshafen introducing the AMU6500 concept

Friedrichshafen, 11th April 2019 – Becker Avionics is introducing at the AERO show the brand-new intercom system: With the AMU6500, Becker Avionics is targeting commercial and business aviation markets.

A traditional German OEM has visited the booth and was delighted about the concept of the AMU6500.

Key features of the AMU6500 include 3D audio and Bluetooth, which are not gadgets, but very important resources, facilitating the life of pilots during operations.

AERO Friedrichshafen, the leading trade show for General Aviation, is closing its door on April 13, 2019.
